

educational program and practice

A photograph of three young children in a classroom, focused on painting a large mural on a wall. The children are wearing light blue school uniforms. One child is standing and painting a yellow shape, while two others are seated on a yellow stool, painting red and green shapes. The mural features abstract, colorful patterns in blue, red, yellow, and green. A large green circular graphic is overlaid on the bottom left of the image.

A play and leisure focused program supports children's learning, development and wellbeing.
