

Well educators can lead and inspire continuous improvement for quality practice and achieve positive outcomes for children, families and the community

Educator wellbeing fosters engagement with the service learning community and promotes a positive organisational culture. Supported educators experience individual and team professional development and actively contribute to continuous quality improvement.

